

Student Council would like to get the School involved in a Holiday Card Project

Resurrection School is helping to make the holidays a little brighter for our troops in Iraq by participating in a Holiday Card Project sponsored by Soldiers' Angels. This organization is collecting cards to send to the troops. We ask for your help in making Christmas and holiday cards for the troops. You can make as many as you want. Let's help Soliders' Angels reach their goal of spreading holiday joy to all of our troops.

Tally

Their Current Total:
8969 cards (6.4 %)

Their Goal: 140,000
cards

Deadline

Please have all cards into the Troops' mail bin located in front of Sr. Georgi's office no later than Monday, November 26, 2007.

Who can Participate

Anyone can participate, even your families. Just put their cards into the bin along with yours by the due date.

Standards for the cards

You make your own. Cards should be no larger than 8.5" x 11" (a standard sheet of paper). Of course, smaller cards are preferred.

Home-made cards can be designed on your computer, or using construction paper and glitter, or elaborate scrap-booked stuff. For examples of computer made cards, you can go to:

What to Write

Write whatever you want to write, within reason. Messages should be upbeat and may be as religious or secular as you please. Some of the troops are devout Christians for whom Christmas is a profoundly religious experience. Some of our troops think of Christmas as a time for family and friends. Some of the troops are Jewish. Others express a desire for holiday greeting cards.
